

The Latter-Day Saints Millennial Star, Vol. 86: November 13, 1924 (Classic Reprint) (Paperback)

By David O McKay

Forgotten Books, United States, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from The Latter-Day Saints Millennial Star, Vol. 86: November 13, 1924 There is only one safe course, the Speaker said, and that is for this people to sustain the laws of the land and to befriend the great basic law of the nation. No man can be a Latter-day Saint, said Elder Smith, who will lend his support to any movement designed to change this great document in its fundamental elements. In concluding his address, Elder Smith expressed the hope that the Saints will prove true to the word of the Lord and to their heritage. The next speaker was Bishop John vells. He noted the fact that the great assemblage at the conference was composed of a vast number of persons, delegates, so to speak, but not delegates whose expenses had been paid by any organization. Bishop Tells expressed his gratitude for the blessings of the Lord. Elder Wells referred to various phases of religious worship, such as the responsibility of preaching the Gospel to the world and of performing work in behalf of the dead, such as family...
